Lytton Highway (Municipal) Cemetery

In the fall of 1986 the Lytton Village Council appealed to the community for volunteers to help clean up and map the village cemetery. Considering the fact that the earliest identified grave was 1876 and that no mapping or specific order of burial had ever been followed, and that the weeds were about three feet high and the pine needles were at least a foot deep that turned out to be quite a job!

However with the help of ten amazing, dedicated volunteers including Exton-Dodge Land surveyors and one volunteer with engineering experience we came, we saw, and we conquered. Also with the help of the local Secondary school we had a new fence built around the cemetery and a new tool shed built. We also have new gates thanks to the volunteer who is a welder.

We now have a detailed map of the cemetery posted on the shed at the main gate. We have detailed records of all known burials (complete with photos) at the Village Office. Unfortunately because the cemetery is so old and record-keeping was practically nil there are several graves with no markers. We have names of many people whose relatives claim they are buried in our cemetery, but they have no idea where, so the Village has constructed a cairn near the main gate where bronze plaques can be attached remembering these people.

Visitors are always welcome. Please sign the Register at the main gate when visiting.
