Acknowledgements

To the dedication of Mr. Beverly Sherman and the hours he has spent on producing this publication for the British Columbia Genealogical Society.

We remind readers that a few of the plastic markers (PMs) have been broken and the pieces lost. Also, the script indentations on the mahogany shutters had been accented with gilt paint, some of which has washed away and although Mr. Sherman has tried to ensure accuracy, a few errors or omissions may occur. His biggest challenge was to identify, locate and record the inscriptions in such a way that a researcher could be directed or led to the name for which they were looking.

Thank you also to Lynda Cunningham for the use of her photographs. B.C.G.S. volunteers are continuing to update this listing. Please contact the society for more information, photographs or to volunteer on this project. Website: www.bcgs.ca

PREFACE AND ARRANGEMENT OF MEMORIALS ON GROUNDS

Boal Chapel, now known as the Boal Chapel Memorial Gardens, Boal Chapel and Memorial Gardens or the First Memorial Funeral Services® Boal Chapel Memorial Gardens is at 1505 Lillooet Road, North Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada V7J 2J1. The Cemetery is now owned and operated by Service Corporation International (Canada) Limited (SCI).

Boal Chapel is easily reached by car or by public transit and currently is open seven days a week from 8:30 am to 5:00 pm.

For additional information, or to contribute additions or corrections to these listings, please contact the B.C.G.S. Cemetery Committee. Volunteers continue to update these listings and welcome queries and assistance.

Walk with me through the Boal Chapel Gardens and the adjacent forest grove and learn of the changes that have taken place since I first visited it in 1988.

In the beginning, there were only three types of memorial inscriptions;

1.) Plastic markers. These were about a foot in height and were attached to metal stakes. They were placed throughout the garden, along both sides of the service road and the path leading up to the forest grove. They each contained one or more names as well as vital dates. An attempt was made to describe the location of each one. However, please don't be disappointed if a particular one can't be found. Landscape gardening tends to scatter them.

2.) Grey granite shutters. These were about 48" x 48" x 2". There was room for about 140 names to be inscribed on each one. There were no vital dates. It should not be assumed that all names are of a deceased person. I was told that some survivors had their names added next to their loved ones while the space was still available.

3.) The Heather Columbarium, a wall in which the ashes of the deceased person(s) are sealed in compartments which bear their names and dates. Where the ashes and name-plates have been removed, the records have been square-bracketed thus [John Doe 1900-2000].

The landscaping has changed significantly over the years. Of the two pools that were there when I first visited the gardens, the easternmost one now has been pleasantly renovated complete with fountain, water fowl and carp.

Two new types of shutters have been added of approximately the same dimensions as the grey granite ones. One type has been named mahogany of which there are 11. The inscriptions on the mahogany shutters are gilt-lined. They are located in the south-west corner of the garden. Finally, there are ebony coloured shutters, seven in number, located along the service road. Both of these types differ from grey granite in that they have birth and death dates.

Columbaria:

I believe that the Rose Garden Columbarium was the next to be built followed by the Forest Grove Columbarium in 1997. In 1999, a Columbarium (HC2) was constructed which parallels the original Heather Columbarium. In the year 2000, columbaria were built along the eastern and southern borders of the easternmost pool and transcription of the memorial plaques started soon after.

Memorial inscriptions have been copied throughout the period 1988-2002 with the latest being made on Sept. 5th, 2002 and will continue as new ones are added. There are over 6737 records in the Boal Columbarium CD Index.

SECTION 5
BOAL CHAPEL, INCLUDING PLASTIC AND OTHER MEMORIAL MARKERS, AND THE HEATHER COLUMBARIUM

The memorials take the following forms:

1. Plastic markers on metal stakes standing about 1 ft. high and scattered throughout the plantings. Sometimes the markers are of brass or bronze. A few are broken and parts of the inscriptions are lost. They are not only among the formal gardens but along the forest path as well. They usually take this form:

In Loving Memory
John G. Doe
1898 - 1978

2. The Heather Columbarium, a wall where ashes are placed, each occupied recess is sealed and the deceased's name and dates are displayed on a brass plate thereon. In 1997, it was noticed that some plates had been removed and replaced with others. The original inscriptions will be square bracketed thus: [John Smith, 1900-1990]. Listings for the Heather Columbarium start at page 65, and end at page 112.

3. The "shutters", or memorial walls. These are granite slabs, each one large enough to accommodate about 140 names. No dates. I have photographed the 14 shutters that are filled. (Done as of Oct. 7th/88)

Herewith are the inscriptions copied to this date. Start at the exit gate at the east end of the service road and proceed westward, south side of road, as far as memorial for founder, J. Douglas Foreman, by the sycamore tree.

POST SCRIPT - March 10, 1997

There will be duplications of memorials. Many names appear on the shutters as well as on the plastic markers scattered throughout the plantings. There will be some names that will be duplicated in several places i.e. Columbaria, shutters and plastic markers. I have done an alphabetical index which brings together identical names and show where they are located.

This report will lead you along the path that I followed in transcribing the memorials. I have identified the shutters in the index by their starting names, i.e. the first name in the left-hand column on each shutter.

All memorial markers display vital dates with the exception of the grey granite shutters.

It is now over eight years since I copied the Boal Chapel Gardens. Since then, I understand that a new Columbarium has been erected. Vacant cells on the Heather Columbarium will have been occupied. Partially filled shutters will have been completed and new ones erected.

This is an account of the transcriptions made in the late summer of 1997.

The Rose Garden Columbarium (RGC) has been completely recorded in such a way that those that come after will be able to record changes. The Forest Grove Columbaria (six) and the Capilano Core Columbaria (two) have been similarly recorded and indexed.

All grey granite shutters (GG) and mahogany shutters (MG) not previously recorded have been photographed and recorded. Also included in this index are three ebony shutters (EB) on the service road.

The Heather Columbarium (HC) was originally recorded in 1988. The 1997 changes in the HC name-plates are recorded as well.

All plastic markers recorded in 1988 will be found in the index. New plastic markers, brown in colour, have been used for new memorials and to replace old ones either lost or broken. Here follows a list of plastic markers (PM's) not previously recorded.

My path starts at the west end of the west pond and proceeds north-ward toward the grey granite shutters.

CRYSTAL LAKE – EAST AND SOUTH SIDES OF THE POOL AND THE ISLAND COLUMNS

This file "CRYSTAL LAKE" was created as a result of a visit to the Boal Chapel Gardens in late March of 2000. It records the inscriptions on the cells in columbarium walls at the east and south sides of the pool and in columns on the island in the lake.

Some of the sections are of granite and some are faced with mahogany colored marble. The latter are called "Companion" cells as they are big enough for two. There is also an open book similar to the one at the east end of Heather Columbarium Two. We will start with this book.

FOREST GROVE PATH MEMORIAL STRUCTURES

First there is a group of nine Forest Grove Columbaria. Memorial plaques may be placed on both sides. Seven of them have space on each side for 24 plaques. The other two have space on each side for 36 plaques. Thus, there is a total capacity of 480 cells and the corresponding plaques. They are parallel to the path which divides and goes past them on either side. They will be identified as follows: the first one will be Unit 1 and the sides will be identified as A or B. Both types have six columns beginning with the first cell in the upper left corner. There are two Capilano Core Columbaria; each 11 columns, 5 tiers on each side for a total capacity of 220.

Abbreviations used will be:

CCC Capilano Core Columbarium
FGC Forest Grove Columbarium
C Column
T Tier
(spc) space left to affix a second plaque
(prp) Pre-purchased
(res) Reserved
(vac) Vacant
[] around entry means plaque removed.

Transcribing started on August 27th, 1997.

SECTION 8

HEATHER COLUMBARIUM NO. 2 (NEW COLUMBARIUM DIRECTLY OPPOSITE THE HEATHER COLUMBARIUM NO.1)

Plaques have been mounted on both sides of this structure.

Length is approx. same as the Heather Columbarium. For purposes of locating plaques, each side can be divided into 8 sections; 4 on each side of a central archway. Reading from left to right, sections can be identified as follows: SS S4 = south side, section 4 or NS S1 = north side section 1. First transcriptions were made Jan. 20th, 1999. Together, these two columbaria and the curb memorials around the garden plot between them and the open book will all be included in "Heather Columbarium Two (HC2)".

For purposes of locating, the index abbreviations HC and HC2 will stand for the original Heather Columbarium and the new one built 1998/99. The curb level memorials around the bedding plants will be indexed "HC Curb". The open book memorials will be indexed "HC Book".

ROSE GARDEN COLUMBARIUM

A start was made in transcribing the name-plates in the RGC Saturday, August 10th, 1997. The path leads from the entrance in a more or less circular fashion back to its beginning. I followed it clockwise. The Columbarium walls are in sections each meeting with its neighbour at a slight angle.

The inscriptions are in columns five tiers high. I decided to record them in such a way that those who follow after can easily identify and record additions. This will be the coding used in this report and in the index thereto.

BRITISH COLUMBIA GENEALOGICAL SOCIETY

Members of the British Columbia Genealogical Society have been actively researching and preserving their own and British Columbia's genealogical heritage since 1971. Members' genealogical interests are worldwide, but the B.C.G.S. has a special interest in British Columbia research and has many publications on B.C. genealogical topics, especially recordings from B.C. cemetery inscriptions.

The B.C.G.S. Cemetery Committee's latest publications include those for Murrayville Cemetery in Langley, Kitsumgallum Cemetery at Terrace (recorded by the Kitsumgallum Cemetery Volunteers), and for cemeteries at Tappen, Yale, Boston Bar and North Bend, Cecil Lake, Alexandra Lodge, the Village of Queen Charlotte and Little Fort. Currently, members are working on cemetery publications for Hatzic Cemetery in Mission and for the Gardens of Gethsemani in Surrey and Forest Lawn in Burnaby.

Committee members welcome any information about B.C. cemeteries and cemetery recording projects. We encourage everyone to add to our B.C. cemetery list which includes cemetery area, name, location, latitude, longitude, and whether/where records are available. The B.C.G.S. Cemetery Committee meets the first Wednesday of every month in Greater Vancouver. To join us, or for more information, please contact us at: cemeteries@bcgs.ca or call 604 502 9119 (B.C.G.S. Library, Surrey, B.C.)

The B.C.G.S. has a private library in Surrey, B.C. with over 12,000 genealogical books and periodicals, etc. This is open to the public at a nominal fee.

Society meetings and seminars feature special speakers, beginners and intermediate genealogy classes and special interest group sessions every month in Burnaby at Edmonds Community Centre. Free. B.C.G.S. members and committees attend many multicultural and heritage events throughout the year, and offer displays and talks to community and heritage groups.

The B.C.G.S. is a member of both the British Columbia Historical Federation, the Canadian Historical Association and the international Federation of Family History Societies. The B.C.G.S. is incorporated under the Society Act of British Columbia and has charitable status with Revenue Canada.
